Eligibility criteria for Young Scientist Awards: Maternal & Child Health Congress 2020:

The Maternal & Child health Congress 2020: Young Scientist Awards: is for all young Researchers, Research Scholars (Preferably PhD, Post Doc, and Postgraduates & Graduates) who have involved themselves in the R&D sector. The candidates should have a minimum of 3+ years of research experience and published a minimum of 3 research articles in international journals. Part-time researchers can be considered subject to recommended by the research guide or any director level designated person from the organization.

Applications are invited on a first come first basis. Only 25 nominations are accepted globally.

Basis for Judging

Nominated candidates need to present their research or talk for 25-30 minutes. The subject should be under the scope of the Maternal & Child Health Congress 2020 conference. Selection will be based on individual accomplishments, quality & standards of research, noble thought, research methodology, innovative ideas, style of presentation, significance of the contribution to the field, originality, clarity, and future extended scope of the research and probability of bringing the research in terms of products/services into public domain.

Nomination:

We invite online applications from desired candidates, self-nomination or nominated by organizations (both private & public sectors)/research guides. The first author must be the student & the student’s advisor should attach a statement that their contribution is primarily advisory.

Candidates applying for the Maternal & Child Health Congress 2020: Young Researcher Award should send their resume, along with a letter of recommendation (from a research adviser/faculty/organization heads) to maternal@asiameets.com along with the online application at the Maternal & Child Congress 2020 page.
